Plastics, Petrochemical, Repairs/Breakdowns & General Engineering Company

Our Company

Since 1975 Wagma Engineering has proudly serviced a broad spectrum of industries with the successful repair and manufacture of worn, damaged, or mismatched components.

Reclamation technology is our specialty and we continue to consistently produce work of the highest standard both locally and abroad.

The successful completion of innovative and effective engineering solutions is attributable to the skills of our production team; committed project management from our sales team; and the excellent working relationship we share with our customers.

Wagma Engineering is committed to providing unsurpassed service to all customers big and small. Our sales people will provide you the ultimate in service, direction and value for money!
